CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Dear Presidents, Rectors, Vice-Chancellors of the AUN Member Universities

The Universities and Councils Network on Innovation for Inclusive Development in Southeast Asia (UNIID-SEA) and the ASEAN University Network (AUN) are launching a new grants program called the “IID Fellows Program: Development of Teaching and Learning Packages on Innovation for Inclusive Development in Southeast Asia.” The program will award small grants to individuals for the development of their existing modules and courses that would help others to build the necessary knowledge and skills for innovation for inclusive development or IID.

IID is broadly defined as “innovation that aims to reduce poverty and enables as many groups of people, especially the poor and marginalized, to participate in decision-making, create and actualize opportunities, and share the benefits of development” (IID Program Prospectus, IDRC, 2011).

With this letter are the TERMS of REFERENCE and the APPLICATION FORM. These can also be accessed online the Program Page: <http://uniid-sea.net/iidfellows/>.

The program is open to interested applicants from the ten (10) ASEAN countries: Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam. USD 1,500 to USD 2,500 will be made available to each Fellow that will be chosen. Up to twenty (20) Fellows will be named by June 2014.

The deadline for submission of applications is on MAY 31, 2014. We highly encourage interested individuals from your Institution to take part in this regional initiative. Please feel free to share this program to all your departments and units. We are looking forward to applications from your organization.

For inquiries, you may send an email to iid.fellows@gmail.com or you may call the program secretariat at the Ateneo School of Government via telephone numbers +63 2 426 6001 local 4639 (trunkline) or +63 2 929 7035 (telefax).
